ELVIS IS DRAFTED

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Elvis Presley got his "greetings" from Uncle Sam Friday, but his studio said an eight-week deferment will be asked for the rock'n' roll singer so he can make a movie.

Presley's draft board in Memphis ordered him to report for induction into the armed services Jan. 20.

"I'm kinda proud of it," the singer said in Memphis. "It's a duty I've got to fill and I'm going to do it."

However, Y. Frank Freeman, head of Paramount Pictures, said he will ask the draft board to delay Presley's induction eight weeks. The quiver-lipped singer is scheduled to start filming a picture Jan. 13. The film, "King Creole," formerly was titled "Sing, You Singers."

Freeman said that if the picture is cancelled the studio will lose between $300,000 and $350,000 because of various commitments and investments already made.

Tom Parker of Nashville, the singer's manager, said the draft notice would cost Presley half a million dollars in gross income immediately. After that, he said, it would be hard to estimate.

On Jan. 20, if his induction is not delayed, Presley will report to his draft board along with others on the list for roll call. After physical examination, they will be sworn in. Then they travel by bus to Fort Chaffee, Ark.

PRESLEY... "I'm kinda proud of it. It's a duty I've got to fill and I'm going to do it."

GOP Feared Shock-Clark

'True Facts Must Be Given People,' Republican Sen. Wiley Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) accused the Eisenhower administration Friday of suppressing a report because of "its devastating exposure of America's weakness."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) similarly called for an exposure of "the whole shabby mess."

And Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said "the true facts must be given to the American people."

All of them were commenting on the Gaither Report, a top-secret government document which the Washington Post said "portrays a United States in the gravest danger in its history... exposed to an almost immediate threat from the missile-bristling Soviet Union."

The report was prepared by a committee headed by H. Rowan Gaither Jr., former head of the Ford Foundation and was said to have been submitted to Eisenhower Nov. 7.

No White House Comment

The White House has declined all comment, saying the document is highly classified.

Clark said in a statement:

"Obviously, the Gaither Report has been suppressed because of its devastating exposure of America's weakness in the face of the mammoth Soviet threat—and the absence of a plan for national action to overcome that weakness."

"Now that the report has been partially disclosed, there can no longer be any excuse for not releasing all of the conclusions of the report, plus the supporting detail—excluding only those portions which might give the Soviets security information they do not now possess."

"The country and the Congress must make some of the most grievous decisions in the whole course of our history as a nation. We cannot make those decisions if the administration continues to deny to the people the truth, and the whole truth, as to the state of our national security."

'Tremendous Challenge'

Sen. Wiley, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the Gaither Report should "awaken Americans to the fact that we are facing a tremendous challenge."

"The true facts must be given to the American people," Wiley said. "This report should be a signal to the entire world that we must find some peaceful solution to the current East-West tension."

Sen. Humphrey said Eisenhower should make the report "immediately available to the Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees of the Congress."

Wants Full Story

"The American people are now so accustomed to bad news about the administration's incredible defaults and omissions in the field of national defense," Humphrey said, "that I see no reason why the full story should not be laid before them."

"Let us have the whole shabby mess out on the table," he added. "The Post said the study by the Gaither board 'pictures the nation moving in a frightening course to the status of a second-class power.' It listed among the recommendations:

"A rapidly rising military budget through 1970, reaching in the years 1960 and 1961 a peak outlay of about eight billion dollars a year in additional expenditures over and above the current 33 billion defense outlay. Another five billion a year, for several years, for a civilian shelter program, is recommended on a second-priority basis."

AF Raises, Lowers Its Signal Ball

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force raised, and then four hours later lowered Friday the signal that normally indicates preparations for a missile launching.

Even though the signal, a red ball on a tall pole, was withdrawn from view, cameramen and reporters on the beaches of this area continued an uneasy watch over the missile test center, from which the public is barred.

They noted that virtually the entire shrimp fishing fleet of this area remained in port, as though under orders to stay away from the region of the missile test range extending out into the Atlantic.

The fishermen themselves were not talking. It seemed to be a fine day for fishing.

3 Tall Gunmen Snatch Jewel Fortune In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Three tall gunmen held up three jewelers in a Queens parking lot Friday, and made off with a shipment of gems worth an estimated quarter of a million dollars.

The big robbery occurred about sundown as six leather bags of jewels were being removed from the trunk of a car.

Police said the bandits—one of them brandishing a pistol in each hand—knocked one jeweler to the ground, trained gun barrels on two others in the car and then grabbed the jewel satchels from the trunk.

They leaped into a black German-made automobile parked nearby, police said, and sped away.

One of the jewelers, Max Schweitzer, 49, of Oceanside, N.Y., was taken to Queens General Hospital, reportedly suffering from a heart attack.

Police cars fanned out over the Queens area, swarming with home-bound holiday traffic, to try to spot the robbers' get-away car.

The jewelers—three of them—had driven from Manhattan with the trunkload of jewels, they told police, and stopped at a parking lot on a busy boulevard to distribute the merchandise.

The parking lot is on a hilltop at 125-10 Queens Boulevard in Kew Gardens, a central point of Queens.

Police said the big cargo of jewels, described as both "set and unset gems," was being brought to Queens for distribution to neighborhood stores and shops.

Schweitzer and his partner, Arnold Schorr, 40, of Long Beach, N.Y., who operate the S. and S. Jewelry Service of Manhattan, were with an employee, Lion S. Winnik, 40, of Queens.

Grain Tax May Snarl State Levy

...Too Many Unknowns, Tax Commissioner Says

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

A new wrinkle has developed in the administration of the grain tax bill passed by the 1957 Legislature in which it appears it will be difficult, if not impossible to accurately set the state property tax levy because of the unknown quantity of the grain tax.

State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington met with the State Board of Equalization late Friday to present the recently discovered problem, and the Board has taken it under advisement.

Under LB 553, an annual excise tax is to be levied on all grain or seed produced, harvested, received, processed, or transported for the purpose of sale or resale, and shall be taxed each time it is physically handled.

Proportionate Shares

The tax revenue is to be distributed to the state and governmental subdivisions according to the "subdivisions' proportionate share of the respective tax levies for the current year."

For example, if the state's total share of all property taxes levied in the state equalled 20 per cent of all property taxes, the state would receive 20 per cent of the grain tax revenue.

As Herrington explained it, the difficulty arises from the fact that the State Board of Equalization must estimate its cash receipts before it sets its property tax levy in August, and the receipts to the state from the grain tax will be unknown.

Each County Gets Share

The total amount of the money made available by the grain tax will be known from the abstracts submitted to the Tax Commissioner by each individual county, but the state's share will not be known because each political subdivision will get its share of the pie, and their levies will not be set until September.

The state cannot make an accurate estimate on its share of grain tax, as it can on such other cash receipts as liquor and tobacco taxes, insurance fees, drivers license fees and such, because no precedent has been set on the grain tax.

Since the state allows only a three per cent cushion when setting its levy, and two-thirds of that automatically goes back to the counties for tax collection services, this leaves only a margin of one per cent for guess work.

Expensive Error

One per cent of the $25,000,000 the state collects each year in property taxes amounts to $250,000, which could be an expensive error if the state's share of the grain tax should be considerably less than anticipated due to a general increase in other tax levies.

An increase of only one mill in many of the state's several thousand school districts could have a resounding effect on the state's share of a proportionate tax.

The new problem may result in the Attorney General's being asked for an opinion on whether it's possible for the state to set a levy under these conditions.

Seven Opinions

Seven opinions, answering more than 30 questions, already have been rendered on the complex piece of legislation.

LB 553 was introduced by Sens. John Auerkamp of Julian, Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, J. W. Burbach of Crofton and Otto Liebers of Lincoln.

The bill, which levies a tax ranging from one-half mill to four mills on grain, and 15 mills per hundred pounds on seed, was made possible by a constitutional amendment passed by the voters in the 1956 general election.

Grain heretofore had been taxed the same as other property, on an ad valorem or actual value basis, but starting in 1958, the flat levy would be administered against the 1957 crops.

NEA Asks $4.6 Billion School Aid Plan For Next Five Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Education Assn. (NEA) called on the federal government Friday to start an educational support program of indefinite length which would reach a cost of at least 100 dollars per school age child per year within five years.

The program would cost 25 dollars per child the first year, a total of about one billion dollars. In the fifth year, with the school-age population rising, it would cost $4,600,000,000 all told.

The program, drawn up by the NEA's Legislative Commission, also proposes:

1. College scholarships for at least 20,000 high school graduates each year (a total of 80,000 in four years).

2. At least 5,000 fellowships per year for university graduate study (15,000 in three years).

3. At least 25 million dollars a year for expansion of services of state education agencies in all fields, not alone in science and mathematics education or in testing and guidance.

4. Passage of pending legislation which would allow teachers to make income tax deductions for the cost of professional improvement, such as work at summer school.

5. Continuation of such federal activities as vocational education, library services and school lunches "until it can be demonstrated that the need can be met from other resources."

A statement prepared by the Legislative Commission suggested scholarship awards might average $1,200 per year to start and fellowships $3,000 per year. This would make the total starting cost about 40 million dollars annually, rising to about 160 million in four years.

James L. McCaskill, NEA legislative director, estimated the total cost of all parts of the program would rise from about $1,100,000,000 the first year to about $4,600,000,000 in five years.

The NEA plan represents a sharp turn in emphasis from its previous proposals. In past years it has centered on federal aid to public school construction as an emergency measure limited to five years or less.

Neither McCaskill nor William G. Carr, NEA executive secretary, set any time limit on the present proposal in discussing it at a news conference.

In response to a question, McCaskill said "it is a permanent program in terms of the foreseeable future." Costs, however, were not estimated beyond five years for any part of the program.

Doctor Gets 14 Years In Wife Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. William J. Coughlin, 55, who ended his 30-year marriage with a pistol, was given a minimum sentence—14 years—for murder Friday in Criminal Court.

Dr. Coughlin, a dentist, killed his wife, Mary Francis, 32, during a quarrel in their home Aug. 24. In a statement which was submitted with his plea of guilty, he said he and his wife had detested each other through most of their marriage.

"I wish I'd have shot her with 30 bullets—one for each of the 30 years of our married life," Dr. Coughlin told Asst. State's Atty. William D. Reddy.

Judge Grover C. Niemeyer, in accepting the plea and passing sentence, noted that Dr. Coughlin had led an exemplary life as a professional man, and had never until the shooting, been arrested.

The Coughlins two children, a daughter and a son, are adults.

Suit Settled

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The Superior Court approved the final settlement of a paternity suit against singer Billy Eckstine, 43, by former show girl Carol Drake, 34. Miss Drake charged Eckstine with being the father of her two children.

Eckstine agreed under the settlement to continue paying $750 a month for support of the two children and to name them as beneficiaries in two life insurance policies totaling $50,000.

-CHRISTMAS WEEK SLOWDOWN-

Auto Industry Faces Layoffs

... Dealers Well Stocked With '58 Models

DETROIT (AP) — Temporary layoffs are in prospect this holiday season for almost 75,000 auto workers because too many 1958 model cars are in dealers' showrooms instead of under Christmas trees.

Playing their inventories close to the vest, Chrysler Friday announced shutdowns for up to two weeks of all its Detroit plant operations.

Ford said it plans to furlough about 21,000 hourly workers for all of Christmas week. Some 10,000 of these will be in the Detroit area.

General Motors said no week-long shutdowns are planned. But GM plant managers have the option locally of adjusting work schedules.

No Figure Given

The Chrysler shutdowns in Detroit will affect at least 50,000 hourly employees. Chrysler, Detroit's largest single employer, has some 100,000 employees in the hourly rated and salaried ranks. The company declined to give an exact figure on the number who will be laid off.

Chrysler said its Newark, Del., and Los Angeles assembly plants will keep to almost normal schedules. Its Evansville, Ind., assembly plant will work until noon, Dec. 24, and will shut down until Jan. 2.

In Detroit Chrysler is closing its Dodge plants from the end of work Monday until Jan. 7. Its DeSoto production from Monday until Jan. 6; its Chrysler division plants from Monday until Jan. 2, and its Plymouth plants from Tuesday noon until Jan. 2.

News of the Chrysler shutdowns helped tip an unsteady stock market over to the minus side Friday. Chrysler stock itself fell off almost 3 points to reach a new low for 1957.

Will Skip Holidays

Among the smaller makers, American Motors said it will work full time through the holidays with the exception of Christmas and New Year's Day. Studebaker Packard, already producing at only about one-third the rate of a year ago, plans to work two days next week—Thursday and Friday. A spokesman said the same schedule probably would apply for New Year's week.

All of the shutdowns are attributed to inventory adjustments. In simple language, this means the car makers have built cars faster than the dealers have sold them.

Two agencies which specialize in tabulating car sales and production disagree on how many unsold cars there are. But they agree there are a lot.

Ross Murphy, 71, Ex-Rock Island Telegrapher, Dies

Ross E. Murphy, 71, of 1435 Dakota died late Friday.

A native of Burr Oak, Kan., Murphy lived in Lincoln for two years. He has been in Nebraska 43 years as an agent and telegrapher for the Rock Island Railroad.

He lived at Clatonia for 40 years until his retirement to Lincoln two years ago.

He was a member of Trinity Methodist Church and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

Surviving are his wife Bertha E., daughter Mrs. Herbert Alpers of Columbus, four brothers, Fred of Hastings, Harve of Mankato, Kan., Ed of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Chester who is in Korea, one sister, Mrs. Eva Rogers of Englewood, Colo., and three grandchildren.

Boy Is Shot

CURLING, Nfld. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy, apparently mistaken for a moose, was shot while hunting near here and died in his grandfather's arms.

Police said Nathaniel Jones may have been fired on by a nearby hunting party. He was walking with his grandfather, John Jones.

It was Newfoundland's first moose-hunting fatality.

—Missile Bases—

Macmillan Wins An OK

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan won approval from the House of Commons Friday night for NATO's summit policies and the planting of U.S. nuclear missile bases in Britain.

But the smallness of the government's majority—38 votes—fell 20 short of normal Conservative strength and brought shouts of "resign" from labor benches.

Conservatives Critical
The test of strength came after a five-hour debate in which the opposition again assailed the American missile bases project and the flights of American bomber patrols over Britain with H-bomb loads. Some Conservative as well as labor speakers demanded that Britain adopt a more independent policy to seek agreement with Russia.

The United States and Britain are reported to have virtually agreed upon building four bases in Britain—perhaps in Scotland—for medium missiles whose 1,500-mile range could reach Moscow.

Macmillan wound up Friday's debate by quieting any doubt that Britain would hold the veto on any triggering of a missile attack from bases in Britain.

"We have complete negative control," he emphasized. At the same time, he said, Britain could not shoot them off on her own without Washington's approval.

40 Freight Cars Pile Up On U.P. Wyoming Track

RAWLINS, Wyo. (INS)—Almost half of the cars on 95-car westbound freight train were derailed late Friday on the main Union Pacific line about 25 miles east of Rawlins, Wyo.

Railroad officials said the derailment of at least 40 cars took place at a siding called Edison and the freight trains were flung across two main tracks, blocking passenger and Christmas mail traffic in both directions.

Officials said although one of the derailed cars smashed into an occupied station house, there were apparently no injuries to the occupants and to the train crew.

Railroad workers began immediately to clear the line.

The U.P. streamliners City of Los Angeles, City of San Francisco, and City of Portland, all eastbound and filled with holiday travelers, were being held up at Rawlins, and the westbound City of St. Louis was being held east of the crash site.

Injured Woman Still Unconscious

Mrs. Goldie Howarter, 50, of 663½ So. 19th has failed to regain consciousness in a Lincoln hospital where she was taken late Wednesday after suffering serious injuries, apparently from a fall down stairs.

Police reported the woman was taken to the hospital by a friend. It is believed she had been unconscious for a day before she was admitted to the hospital.

Her injuries include bruises, cuts and marks which appear to have been made by fingernails. She is in critical condition, the hospital reported.

PETS SAID GOOD BARGAINS FOR CHRISTMAS GIVING

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

When Christmas gift funds get low and names still remain to be crossed off the list one of the best bargains to be found may be had at 2320 Park Blvd.

That is the address of the Humane Society. There a homeless litter of coal black, soulful-eyed pups is waiting to be claimed. They are about seven weeks old, a perfect age for adoption.

If they're so perfect why have they been placed with the Humane Society? Their mother is a purebred cocker spaniel. The family that owns the mother is in the business of raising, not just dogs, but purebred dogs. It happens that their father just does not fit well into a cocker pedigree. Nothing against him. He is a perfectly respectable terrier.

So instead of $25 or more per pup at a breeder, these can be had for $5 at the Society.

Even if you have a dog, the Humane Society could well figure into your Christmas plans. In addition to the pet placement function, the Society also runs an extensive boarder service. For $1 per day the Society will take care of any dog, large or small.

As guests of the Society the dogs get food, pen and use of the runs. Dogs are not the only pets boarded. According to the reservations list the Society will have several additional cats and a couple of chickens to look after.

Now that cats have crept into this column, it might be mentioned that a couple of long haired, all white kittens are available for Christmas stockings.

At sometime or other the Society has on hand a dog to fit almost any specifications. The turnover is rapid. Persons who want particular breeds or dogs with certain characteristics—suitable for children, good watchdogs, hunters etc.—should call daily. The particular type of dog wanted may come in at any time.

Railroads Deserting Riders

... Services Cut

NEW YORK (AP)—The flight of the railroads from the passenger business gathered speed Friday when the New Haven Railroad said it would cut passenger service 30 per cent on Jan. 2.

Thus the New Haven joined the New York Central, which is attempting to abandon all passenger service on some of its western lines, and the Baltimore and Ohio, which wants to eliminate service between Baltimore and New York.

Along the same retreating line, the Chicago and North Western asked the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to revamp its commuter service, including the elimination of 23 of the 49 stations on the road's three commuter lines into Chicago.

The New Haven said it will drop five trains in each direction between New York and Boston from among the 38 trains now operated. Two trains in each direction will be dropped from the 32 trains a day which now run between New York and Springfield.

Dropped

In addition, two round trips between New Haven and Springfield, and one round trip between New Haven and New York, will be dropped.

Among the trains to be eliminated are the Mayflower, the Senator, the New Yorker and the Advance Merchants Limited on Friday and Sundays only.

The road said it had notified the public utilities commissions in each state it serves of its plans but said approval of the commissions is not needed.

Reason for the cutback, the road said, was a falling off in passenger service. The New Haven also will curtail the number of freight trains it operates.

Consumers Rejects Bids On 5 Power Plant Machines

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—The Consumers Public Power District board of directors Friday rejected all bids on five pieces of equipment for the Sheldon Station Power Plant near Hallam.

Bids will be advertised again, and the board said it is expected the equipment will be on hand in 1959.

The board said the bids were rejected because of improper bidding procedure and because of technical language in the bids.

The bids had been asked on a horizontal surface condenser and its accessories; a cooling tower; a 50-ton crane; a de-aerator, which takes oxygen from water which goes into the boilers, and three transformers.

DIVORCEE, IN WHEEL CHAIR, WEDS MILLIONAIRE OF 74

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seated in a wheel chair, Mrs. Anne Kinder Jones, 35, Friday was married to Cyrus S. Wheaton, 74, millionaire industrialist, financier and philosopher.

About half the wedding guests were children—10 of Eaton's 13 grandchildren and the bride's 13-year-old daughter, Alice.

The bride, confined to a wheel chair by polio paralysis suffered 11 years ago, wore a blue jersey dress with matching blue hat and was adorned with white orchids and diamond engagement and wedding rings.

Strikes Hit 16 Papers In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Sixteen newspapers from Galveston, Tex., to Worcester, Mass., have been hit by strikes, but all but four are continuing to publish.

The four are the St. Paul, Minn., dispatch and the Pioneer Press, and the Dayton, Ohio Daily News and Journal Herald.

The 16 papers are located in 12 cities and have a combined circulation of about three quarters of a million.

In St. Paul where the walkout Friday entered its third day, one of the striking unions, the Newspaper Guild, and the management planned to meet Monday in what will be the first negotiations since the papers suspended operations Wednesday.

The International Typographical Union, representing both striking mailers and typographical workers, said there was no indication of any talks until after Christmas.

Report for Work

A strike by 64 mailers kept the Dayton Daily News from publishing Friday and prevented its sister paper, the morning Journal Herald from publishing its Saturday editions.

Editorial staffs for both papers which have a combined circulation of 94,000 reported for work.

In Galveston, both News and Tribune with a combined circulation of 29,891 are still publishing. Composing room operators struck the papers on Dec. 4 in a contract dispute.

Six papers in New York's Westchester County have been publishing regularly since printers went out Dec. 9.

Leaders of the Printers Union in the Westchester papers are calling the stoppage a lockout, while management calls it a strike.

Other papers hit were at Worcester and Haverhill, Mass., Lima, Ohio, and Bizbee, Ariz.

No Interstate Projects Done By Nov. 30

A progress report from the Federal Bureau of Roads showed Friday that Nebraska was one of seven states and the District of Columbia that had no interstate project completed by Nov. 30.

The six other states are Delaware, Georgia, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont and West Virginia.

Nebraska does have, however, $13.6 million committed or programmed for interstate highway work totaling 11.6 miles. This includes $11.2 million in federal funds.

Construction is underway in the Omaha-Gretna area on 6.4 miles of interstate highway at a cost of $2.3 million, $2 million of which is federal money.

2 Bandits Hold Up Omaha Grocery

OMAHA (AP)—Two Negro bandits, one wearing a handkerchief to hide his face and the other using adhesive tape to mask his features, Friday night held up the Davis Grocery Store on North 26th St. Mable Davis was alone in the store at the time, her husband being asleep in their living quarters at the rear of the store. Mrs. Davis said the bandits, who held a gun on her, took about $45 from the till.

Kearney State Nurse Training Head Named

Miss Frieda Lebensbaum of Miami, Fla., was named Friday as director of the new practical nurses training program scheduled to begin Feb. 17 at Kearney State Teachers College.

State Commissioner of Education Freeman Decker, who made the appointment, said Miss Ellen Jensen, state supervisor of practical nurses training, will go to Kearney to assist in opening the program.

The school on the Kearney campus will be the second of its kind operating in Nebraska with state and federal funds.

Cecil Stanley, chief of vocational education in the State Department of Education, said it is hoped another school can be started next year, either in Lincoln or Scottsbluff.

Miss Lebensbaum holds bachelor's and master's degrees from New York University and has been associated with the Wyoming State Health Department in Cheyenne.

Diana Dors' Boy Friend Fined; He Argued With Cop

LONDON (AP)—Tommy Yeardie, muscular boy friend of actress Diana Dors, was convicted on assault and dangerous driving charges arising from a joy ride with the blonde glamor star.

Constable Roy Anderson told the court that while patrolling a busy London intersection Nov. 29 he tried to halt the car.

Anderson testified Yeardie got out, pushed him in the chest, got back in and started to drive off. The constable said he had to fling himself on the radiator to keep from being run over. He was carried about 15 yards before the car stopped.

Miss Dors sat in the car all the while holding her pet kitten and poodle, the constable said.

The actress testified she was humiliated by the London bobby in front of a crowd of sightseers. Yeardie was fined a total of 32 pounds ($89.60) with 31 guineas ($88) costs. He gave notice of appeal.

Miss Dors, who came to court with her pet kitten, has two charges of her own pending against the policeman. She charged him with assault and abusive language.

Parking Meter Hike Due Before Council Monday

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City Traffic Commission's recommendation for 10-cent-an-hour meters is expected to reach the City Council on Monday and start a lengthy study of the parking situation in the downtown business district.

Meanwhile, the public's first reactions to the increased rate for one-hour meters continued mixed, but decidedly tipped toward the disfavored side.

Mayor Bennett Martin said Friday that his office would have a complete report "within the next couple of weeks" on all available downtown parking.

The report, he said, would survey the M to Q, 10th to 20th area as to on-street parking and both public and private off-street parking facilities.

To Check Progress

He said the purpose of the report was to determine the progress made toward increasing downtown parking during the past several years.

The mayor was cool toward any meter rate increase in view of a proposed special levy on motor vehicles to aid the financing of a much-needed major street improvement program, estimated to cost $15.5 million over a 10-year period.

But, Capt. Willis Manchester, police traffic engineer, favors the commission's recommendation as a "dam good plan."

Hits Meter Feeders

Manchester said that the proposed 10-cent rate for one-hour meters could do far more toward eliminating "meter feeders" who occupy one-hour space for two, three and four hours than is possible by normal police enforcement methods.

He said office and business workers appeared to be the worst offenders in meter-feeding, thus eliminating parking space that could be available for the shopper and others.

There are 359 one-hour meters and 347 half-hour meters in the business core area between N and P, 10th to 14th, and on O to 16th, according to Manchester.

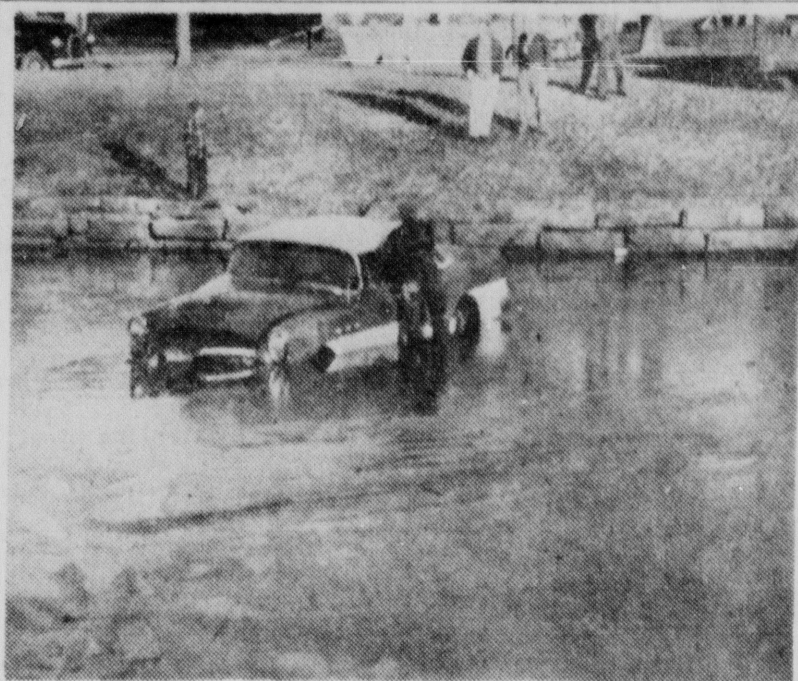

He said that both the half-hour and one-hour meters in this area would be changed, under the commission's proposal, to a uniform rate of five cents per half-hour and 10 cents per hour. Fractional rates would be one penny for each six minutes.

None In Area

No 12-minute meters are located in this area, but are interspersed in the two-hour meter ring outside this district, he added.

Manchester said the increased rate should encourage the chronic meter-feeders to seek the fringe areas around the business district or off-street parking facilities.

Outside the two-hour meter ring is non-metered, two-hour parking. Four-hour meters at five cents an hour are recommended for these areas for the half-day parkers.

NO THROUGH STREET!

Robert E. White of 2121 A escaped with only a cut chin when this car he was driving jumped the curb and went into the pond at 15th and Lake. Police said White, 32, said he believed he was on 14th—a through street—but in reality was on 15th and drove off the dead end into the lake early Friday morning. He was treated at a local hospital and released. (Star Photo)

Decker 'Bitterly Opposed' To Assistantship Plan

... In Arts, Science Proposal

State Commissioner of Education Freeman Decker said Friday he is "bitterly opposed" to the proposal by the Arts and Science faculty of the University of Nebraska that practice teaching credit be given to students awarded assistantships to help professors.

"I would be bitterly opposed to something of that kind," Decker said, "because if it's a college course, college professors should be teaching it. And teaching college students is entirely different than teaching high school and grade school youngsters."

In addition to this, Decker contended that "grading papers and conducting laboratories is not teaching."

Under Nebraska law outlining the duties and powers of the State Board of Education, there is a statute providing that the Board shall "approve teacher education programs conducted in Nebraska institutions of higher education designed for the purpose of certifying teachers."

One Of Six

The extension of practice teaching credit for teaching done by students in their subject matter courses was one of the six proposals advanced by 11 Arts and Sciences professors, and given approval by vote of the Arts and Sciences College faculty.

The six proposals are now under study by a six-man faculty committee chosen by Chancellor Clifford Hardin. The committee met Friday and discussed the Arts and Sciences faculty vote approving the proposals to change teacher certification methods.

Dr. Phillip McVey, chairman of the study committee, said that the Arts and Science approval resolution will not come up "in any formal way" before the group. "We are just an arm of the Chancellor formed to study the resolutions themselves."

'Give Added Power'

Dr. Norman Cromwell and Dr. Boyd Carter, both among the 11 proposers of the certification changes, voiced opinions that the recent Arts and Sciences backing of the proposals "would give additional power to the Arts and Sciences members on the study committee."

Dr. Albin T. Anderson and Dr. Cecil E. Vanderveer are the two Arts representatives on the Chancellor's study committee. Dr. Anderson commented that result of the Arts and Sciences approval vote "has not been put to the test" at the committee meetings.

Chancellor Hardin, out of his office Friday on business, said he had not received official notice of the Arts and Sciences faculty action, and had not attended the Friday meeting of the study committee.

Woman, Daughter Hurt In Car Crash Are Satisfactory

A 24-year-old Lincoln woman and her 1½-year-old daughter, injured Friday afternoon in a three-car accident on 10th between P and Q, were reported in satisfactory condition at a local hospital.

Mrs. Donna Showalter of 7226 Leighton and her daughter, Ann Marie, both suffered facial cuts in the mishap. Mrs. Showalter also suffered a possible mild concussion, hospital authorities said.

Police reported that Mrs. Showalter said her car's brakes failed and her car was in collision with one driven by Theroil N. Heiselman, 41, of 3918 Madison, and also with a parked car.

Bleak Christmas

DENVER (INS) — Walter Waddington faces a bleak Christmas unless he can get back his Santa Claus costume.

Waddington told police he hurriedly drove away from the parking lot near the discount house where he is employed as a part-time Santa.

It was later he realized he had left the suit lying on top of the auto. Retracing his route, he found the empty box but not the costume.

The rig, rented from a Denver firm, costs up to $100.

The Rev. John Flynn will officiate. Rosary was recited at 8 p.m. Friday at Hodgman-Spaul and burial will be in Greenview, Conn.

Surviving are his sisters, Mrs. M. W. Costelloe and Miss Agnes Weckbach, both of Lincoln.

Airman, 22, Fined $190 On 3 Counts

A 22-year-old Lincoln Air Force Base airman was fined a total of $190 in Municipal Court on charges arising out of his arrest for reckless driving.

Donald E. Martindale pleaded guilty to reckless driving, procuring liquor for a minor and malicious destruction of property.

He was fined $40 on the reckless charge, $100 on the property damage count and $50 on the liquor violation.

The Safety Patrol reported he was arrested about midnight Wednesday near the Havelock overpass after the car he was found to be driving was seen to weave back and forth across the highway.

Checked His Car

The patrolman reported he placed Martindale in his patrol car and then returned to the Martindale auto to check it.

He found two other airmen in the car, both in possession of liquor which Martindale admitted purchasing for them.

When the patrolman returned to his own car he found Martindale had ripped out his short-wave radio microphone. Martindale was held in jail overnight until his court appearance.

Ike Explains Tunisia Arms To Premier

PARIS (INS) — Premier Felix Gaillard said Friday night President Eisenhower has given France a full and satisfactory explanation about the U.S. delivery of arms to Tunisia.

He also said France's allies recognized that the Algerian issue is an internal problem for the French.

"The affair of the delivery of arms to Tunisia was unhappy and unskillful," Gaillard said in a radio-TV speech. "But talks I have just had on the occasion of a session of NATO have given me satisfaction. The talks have given me great assurance that the fears which we had were unfounded."

The United States and Britain last month made small arms shipments to Tunisia in response to requests from that country for weapons. France protested bitterly, expressing fear that the arms would wind up in rebellious Algeria.

Fears

Gaillard said he told Eisenhower "very frankly about fears raised in French public opinion by certain initiative which are hardly compatible with real solidarity." He said Eisenhower showed a friendly attitude "which everything we know of him had led us to expect."

The Premier also said Eisenhower "showed his indignation in my presence and with great force at certain accusations made in France, according to which the United States is seeking to take our place in North Africa."

"The assurances he gave me were confirmed by (Secretary of State) Dulles before his departure," Gaillard added.

Misdirected Measures

The government has reported that the cost of living continued to increase during November, bearing out a trend that is now of 13 months duration.

To make it more concrete, the government said the cost of living is 3.2 per cent higher than a year ago and 121.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Here, indeed, is a dangerous flaw in the administration's campaign against inflation. The effort has been too strongly conducted against the spender. Tighter credit, increased interest rates, shorter hours of employment in themselves only aggravate the problem of the consumer. When the price of goods continues to rise there is no diminution in need. There is just less of the wherewithal to meet the need. It is a condition that hastens depression, for when the public cannot support full production greater unemployment and stiffer charges are encouraged. There is no true remedy for inflation.

An Honest Approach

In an address in Lincoln, Sen. Karl E. Mundt, South Dakota Republican, reported on five bills aimed at "cleaning out racketeering in labor unions" which are headed for the January session of Congress. Most of the legislation Mundt described appears to be valid, based on the sketchy discussion of it in press reports, but there is another aspect to the situation.

Apparently not a word was uttered by Mundt in regard to management practices that involve highly unethical ways of breaking labor unions. Mundt was only half right in his reason for the current corruption within some labor organizations.

There is something to the statement he made that a lack of interest on the part of rank-and-file labor members has permitted the corrupt and immoral individual to gain positions of leadership in some labor unions. However, tion that does not affect both price and spending.

As the year draws to an end an audit of the administration's policies gives due cause for reflection. The provident and the thrifty—those who placed their accumulations in common stocks have watched from 20 to 50 per cent of their values evaporate. And those who have contracted to acquire things have had to promise to pay more at higher prices for their credit. Meantime, their take home pay has been diminished by a general onslaught of taxes and rising costs.

In some respects there has been the same blindness in the attack on inflation that there has been in the matter of food surpluses. It is a principle that problems are solved by taking people to the woodshed for a sound thrashing. Of all the punitive measures that have been exacted on the farmer only his miseries stand. The problem of the surplus is unabated.

strong labor tactics and what to some are offensive practices stem, as well, from unfair and abusive treatment from management.

If Mundt wants to stop secondary boycotts, why does he not seek at the same time some protection for labor which would be virtually destroyed in many cases without this tool? Others have called for an end to compulsory union membership, known politely as the right-to-work law, but have done nothing to see to it that union members are not discriminated against by management.

Correcting of injustices that exist within labor unions is one thing but legislating in the area affecting relationships between labor and management is another. In the latter case, no one sits in the legislative halls with clean hands. If there are to be corrective laws in this area, let them eliminate the faults on both sides, not just one.

This Memorable Time

As Nebraskans wait out the final breathless hours before Christmas they can reflect that this holiday of 1957 is going to be a memorable one.

First, a group of eminent psychiatrists who have had Santa Claus recumbent on the couch, have emerged to say that he is an all right, well adjusted fellow, entitled to keep on doing business in this scientific age.

The other is as fine a stretch of weather as one could want. It still may be a white Christmas. The frost may thicken on the window pane. But that time is not yet and nothing now can take away the good weather we already have had.

Nebraska will forego a white Christmas if that is the way it is to be. The good weather it has had has been both profitable and enjoyable. It has meant the windup of most of a good harvest—corn in the bin, the winter wheat in luxuriant condition and the greater part of the sorghum harvest solved.

As to Santa Claus, we doubt that he needed vindication. He has been visiting children for ever so long and if there were any detriment in him it would have showed itself hundreds of years ago. We have never heard of anyone attributing his ruin to Santa. We do know of some people who may bring humankind to a disconsolate pass, but singularly they are individuals who lacked an early association with Santa. They are running a formidable country whose people are growing more faceless as time goes on.

We are glad to hear the psychiatrists say that Santa is a proper character in the fantasy world of childhood and that if, after some years, he dissolves from corporeal substance into an invisible set of principles, nothing really changed at all. The alchemy is only an example of how the young mind and the older mind work. But what makes us feel better about the whole thing is the essence of the matter and that is that free people are not faceless people. They possess the right to believe, to form opinions, to practice peace and good will, the right to be kind and the right to draw the world to their fireside and say, "Do not be afraid of us. Here is half of what we have." May it ever be that way.

Editorial Of The Day

Mollycoddling?

From The Minneapolis Tribune

Under the title "Who's Mollycoddling Them?", the Journal of the American Judiciary society asks some highly relevant questions about our juvenile courts and the apparent attack that is now being made on them in certain states. It should go without saying that no human institution is perfect. Juvenile judges have erred—but this has not always been on the side of leniency towards young delinquents. There probably have been miscarriages of justice in the juvenile courts. But on balance, the record has been good.

Instead of cutting down on juvenile courts, the law journal argues, their basic principles should be extended to adults. There is no particular age at which rehabilitation is impossible—and the principle of rehabilitation should be extended to apply to persons of all ages accused and convicted of crime.

"Let us lay a stern, restraining parental hand upon those who need it to keep them from committing more crime," the journal says, "but meanwhile let us do our best to find and correct the conditions which have led each of them down the wrong path, and let us help all who can be helped to find and fill their right place in a society that is too civilized to seek revenge."

Missile Base Not Efficiency Model

Editor's note: While Drew Pearson is taking the Harlem Globetrotters on a good-will tour of North Africa, his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson, whose second dispatch is from the guided missile testing center at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—Disturbing facts about waste, management, and inefficiency have been swept under the secrecy label that has been slapped across the missile testing operations at Cape Canaveral.

These facts are better hidden than the missile secrets security regulations are supposed to protect. However, here are a few embarrassing incidents the top brass has tried to hush up:

1. The Air Force wound several thousand miles of plastic cable around Cape Canaveral in 1950-51. The Florida dampness easily seeped through it, shortcircuiting the vital testing communications network. Result: the whole tangled maze has now been replaced at a cost of millions.

2. A gleaming yellow technical lab has just been completed at Patrick Air Force base, which administers the test center. Before the technical experts were through inspecting it, they had ordered revisions that will cost an estimated $800,000.

3. Last October, the Air Force ordered all overtime abolished and a 5 per cent personnel slash at the test center. This economy was carried out despite the launching of the first Soviet Sputnik on October 4 and the earlier test of the Russian intercontinental ballistic missile. Several key men were fired who still haven't been hired back.

4. During this austerity, Patrick's brass hats sent a C-54 to Trinidad to pick up calypso entertainers for their officers club. The plane developed motor trouble over the Dominican Republic, and the crew spent a seven-day holiday waiting for another C-54 to be flown down.

5. The supply system for the missile range is so gummed up that requisitions often aren't filled for several months. There are 67 different requisition forms, and no supply officer is familiar with all of them.

6. The missile outpost of bleak, cinder-topped Ascension Island waited seven months for such basic supplies as soap. But they got two huge packing crates containing lawnmowers, though there isn't a blade of grass on the island. They assembled the mowers as monuments and hung a sign over them, declaring: "Rust in peace."

7. A $2,000,000 Thor missile was destroyed by mistake because a careless technician crossed the wrong wires in the DOVAP system. This shows the ground officer whether the missile is on course. The second firing of the big 1,200-mile Thor headed over the Atlantic on a perfect course. But the crossed wires made it appear to be looping in the opposite direction toward Orlando. The safety officer frantically pushed the destroy button.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Once In Royal David's City

Once in royal David's city,
Stood a lowly cattle shed,
Where a mother laid her Baby
In a manger for His bed.
Mary was that mother mild,
Jesus Christ her little child.

He came down to earth from Heaven,
Who is God and Lord of all,
And His shelter was a stable,
And His cradle was a stall;
With the poor, and mean, and lowly,
Lived on earth our Savior holy.

And through all His wondrous childhood
He would honor and obey:
Love and watch the lowly mother,
In whose gentle arms He lay.
Christian children all must be Mild, obedient, good as He.

For He is our childhood's pattern,
Day by day like us He grew;
He was little, weak, and helpless,
Tears and smiles like us He knew.
And He feelth for our sadness,
And He shareth in our gladness.

By HORACE B. POWELL

This was written by the beloved English woman hymnist, Mrs. Cecil Frances Alexander, and its message like those of all other hymns she wrote for children is told in simple language which youth can read and understand.

Mrs. Alexander was born in Ireland in 1823 and she was only 25 when her first volume of verse, "Hymns For Little Children," was released. Two years after its publication, the young hymnist was married to the Right Rev. William Alexander, a distinguished English churchman. At the time of their marriage, he was serving as bishop of Derry and Raphoe and later he became primate of all Ireland.

Mrs. Alexander did not permit marriage to halt her literary career. She went on writing hymns and poems and these—more than 400 in all—were published in one successful volume after another. Two of her best-known and best-loved hymns, apart from the Christmas hymn here discussed, are an Easter hymn, "There Is A Green Hill Far Away," and "Jesus Calls Us O'er The Tumult."

Housing To Bolster Economy In 1958

WASHINGTON — Housing has been a weak element in the nation's booming economy in the past two years but it is shaping up as a tower of strength in a predicted 1958 recession.

Economists look for the gradual pickup that began in September to continue through the first half of 1958 with a strong last half and a total of more than one million new homes.

Forecasts ranging up to 100,000 more than the one million in 1957 are based on the fact that it will be early summer before easier mortgage credit takes effect and output can be boosted.

This slow buildup in volume could continue to the one and one-half million new houses a year that will be needed by 1960.

With mortgage credit easier and spiraling costs checked, a problem now is the hesitancy of people to go into debt for a new home at a time when unemployment is on the increase.

While this feeling already is evident, no one in the industry is quite sure just how much of an effect it will have next year.

If other business slumps seriously, the government can be expected to relax controls and encourage home construction and ownership as a boost to allied industries and the general economy.

Nat Rogg, chief economist for the National Association of Home Builders, has warned, however, that housing cannot be counted upon to help pull the nation out of a slump again as it did in 1955.

Harold P. Braman, manager of the National Savings and Loan League, has said that a repetition of the 1955 housing boom would unbalance the market and cause new trouble in the slow recovery.

Braman expects 1,075,000 new homes in 1958 although 1,200,000 could be used, if mortgage money were available, to shelter new families and to replace substandard dwelling units.

Rogg says: "The markets are there: Prices, product, design, quality and merchandising — not housing shelter, but better ways of living through better housing — are the keys to expansion."

Although both men anticipate more mortgage money next year, they also look for the present interest rate to hold fairly steady.

Rogg predicts little change in sales prices in 1958 — a small increase, perhaps, but nothing like the average jump of $1,000 annually that has occurred over the past three years.

The home builders' economist says construction costs will go up a little next year because of wage increases already set in motion by multiple-year labor contracts.

Materials prices have been leveling off, Rogg explains, and land prices have halted a rapid upward spiral but, with no sign of significant softening, land still will be over-priced.

Special Session

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A special session of the State Legislature or no special session, that is the big question of the day. The question is what the nature of a call for such a session would be if it were issued. In all the discussion of Nebraska's tax problems it is well not to lose sight of certain realities, whether they are good or bad. There is a constitutional provision now on the books stating that any sales or income tax must be a replacement for property taxes. This does not necessarily mean what it might appear to say.

It might seem to some that this means the great majority of thought runs along that line. Perhaps a majority of thought does but in the politics of this tax business, the majority is not always heard. Actually, the provision making a sales or income tax a replacement tax was as much a tool of those who wanted no such tax as anything else. This is so because of the reality that the state is not likely to ever get out of the property tax field. Know this, those who oppose a sales or income tax also know that a provision designating either of them as a replacement tax goes a long way toward actually killing them. It might as well be assumed in the beginning that the property tax is here to stay. That leaves two things to do. First, correct the law setting up this tax so it is workable. Second, agree upon another form of tax, sales or income, to broaden the tax base and give relief to property owners. These things could be done together at a special session or split up between a special and regular session, so far as their physical possibility goes.

It is evident however, that both subjects are of considerable magnitude. Regardless of when they were tackled their solution would be worthwhile at almost any cost. Certainly, the correction of laws affecting property taxes to make this tax equitable and enforceable would be well worth the cost of a special session. Likewise, broadening of the tax base is of sufficient importance to warrant a special session in itself. They have cost enough money during past regular sessions without being solved to make them worth a special session for that reason alone. Also, either of them are of such vital importance to the state and its progress that their solution would be well worth a special session.

It is easy to say that we should kill two birds with one stone and take care of both matters at a special session. But having this actually take place is another thing. It would be a savings and a fine thing if one session could dispose of both corrections in the present law and a new form of tax it is doubtful if this could be accomplished. Thrown into a single special session together, the two issues would become confused and played against one another for the sake of politics until neither of them had a chance of being acted upon. This, together with the magnitude of both issues, makes a special session worthwhile if the call would include either one or both. What is needed but lacking is someone to bring into focus the various factions and complications involved. There needs to be a clear cut definition, in specific detail, as to the problems a special session would face and what could be done to meet them.

It would seem logical that this leadership be provided by the governor. Gov. Anderson has said that since it is the Legislature that must finally solve the problem, it should be the Legislature that determines whether a special session is called. There is some truth to that but the departments under the governor are the ones which must work with what the Legislature provides. If these departments are hamstrung under present laws, why does not the governor who heads them tell the Legislature what is needed?

Sen. Mills Destined For Key House Spot

WASHINGTON — The operations of seniority will soon shove forward on the national stage a leading Democratic possibility to succeed Speaker Sam Rayburn. He is Representative Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, whom the death of Representative Jere Cooper of Tennessee moves into the powerful position of chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

For many reasons Mills, who is only 48, will be in a sweet position to further his known ambitions.

His colleagues will be going to him for many little favors in the form of tiny tax bills that mean much in a district and nothing to the nation. Also, the house Democratic caucus charges Ways and Means with the duty of making all its assignments to the other committees of the House. Nothing, of course, is more important to a member of Congress than his committee assignments.

Nationally, the Ways and Means chairman commands an important audience by reason of his power over taxes, the national debt, social security, reciprocal trade and related matters. His views count when it comes to the economic and social structure of the country.

The new chairman is a provocative combination of small southern town boy and Harvard law school polish. He was born in Kensett, Ark., population 600, married his Kensett sweetheart and still lives there. He prepared for Harvard at Hendrix (Methodist) college in Conway, Ark.

Arkansas, incidentally, is having other troubles, but it is doing extremely well in the congressional committee chairmanship line. Of its eight-man delegation, Senator J. W. Fulbright is chairman of Banking and Currency, Senator John L. McClellan heads Government Operations, Representative Oren Harris commands House Interstate and Foreign Commerce and Mills is succeeding to Ways and Means. Fulbright also is ranking member of the Senate foreign relations committee and its best-known member abroad.

Mills will be one of the youngest men to hold the key Ways and Means post. Usually those who succeed to its responsibilities are members long in office and rigidly committed to an economic philosophy that is under attack. That Mills is younger and more flexible represents an asset to the Eisenhower administration, which is about to offer a five-year reciprocal trade bill and may be forced to ask permission to raise the debt limit. Most Republicans on Ways and Means are elderly right-wingers who consider "modern" a bad word.

Even Hoboes Move By Faster Freight

The way things have been going, it just had to happen. An institute in Montreal, Canada, is testing a chemical that makes mice run continuously for the rest of their lives, except when sleeping and eating.

It's no good to say that taxpayers have been doing that for years, because the truth is that taxpayers have enough relaxation left in them to sit down to and from work. Given a dose of the new chemical, they would put the transit lines out of business.

The shoe-leather people would get rich, though.

The researchers can talk all they want to about how this new drug will be used to treat special cases that need reviving up, but you know what's going to happen. First thing anybody knows, Joe Whoofendorfer down the street will get a job of the stuff and go pounding off to work at a hard gallop to make an impression on the boss.

When that happens, the fat's in the fire. Or down the drain. Or somewhere. At least, it isn't on Joe any more. Right away, Joe's tummy comes down to collegiate levels and his income goes up to postgraduate proportions, and every wife in the block goes shopping for a dose of the same medicine for her husband.

In less time than it takes to prune a bunion, the world's civilized population will be on a hard run from first alarm to curfew. There will be no more of young couples strolling through the park hand in hand; they'll do their courting at a canter. The four-minute mile will be a mere dash to the drugstore for a paper,

Ever since pistons doomed Old Dobbin, there has been plenty of warning of the way things were heading. From the day of the horseless carriage on, man's ingenuity has been largely directed at getting some place else faster so that there would be more time in which to go faster still in yet another direction.

So far the Montreal chemical has been used only on mice, and maybe before the test tube people get around to trying it out on people there ought to be a convocation of the human race to determine just how much faster everyone wants to go.

Already, if desire prompts and pocketbook permits, a man can breakfast at home and dine in London, or he can drive from here to Aunt Martha's so fast the telephone poles look like billboards, or skim across the water at a speed that makes a mackerel dizzy. And the only sensible reason for it all is that it leaves him time to go back after the toothbrush he forgot, and still be able to transact the business he came for.

Even the hoboes travel by fast freight these days.

The chances are that there are just as many wild roses beside the roads as there ever were, and just as many smiles on people's faces along the way, but they're hard to see when you're traveling so fast that the mountains look like a dust storm going by to the south.

A person makes a lot more friends and gets there in about the same number of years if he just sort of saunters toward the undertaker's.

More Pay Unneeded

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Every taxpayer should write his congressman today if he does not want a hike in his taxes to raise the pay of postal workers. They are drawing too much now, considering the service rendered.

Beginning substitutes draw $3,700 annually. Where can any youngster of 18 get such wages with no needed experience or education. He can bone up on the examinations and pass. If he works during the holidays he needs only two feet and two hands and to be eighteen.

Where can a worker draw such pay with lack of experience and education with paid vacations, sick leave, pensions and other fringe benefits as a postal worker? No teacher young or old can do so. She must have high school and some college, then she does not draw so much, and for but nine months.

Taxpayers speak now or forever hold your peace! Write your congressman today and tell him that it is not more money needed, but better service, particularly at the top.

Christmas Season Can Bring Peace

more fervently prayed for in these days than the word, peace.
Out of this confused time, one fact at least is becoming clear, namely, that external conditions cannot assure peace of mind and spirit.

We must seek a deeper source. And our Bible tells us that source is in God. "The fruit of the spirit is peace."

For one thing, God gives the peace which comes from having a sure foundation. Let us picture a family scene. It is Christmas Day. At the ends of the long table sit grandfather and grandmother. They are still young and vigorous—as modern grandparents are or think they are! Around the table are their children and a growing brood of grandchildren. Death has never yet invaded that family circle of three generations. Good positions and good investments give economic affluence.

After the bountiful dinner, the grandfather leans back and says to himself, "I am at peace with the world."

But how secure is such peace with the world! Within a week, death or accident, financial disaster or sudden threat of war may change the whole picture.

Peace which rests only on adjustment to the world around us is precarious. Our feeling of security must be founded on something firmer and more abiding.

The peace of God is secured by adjustment to the things that abide.

When, for instance, we trust God's justice, we get a certain peace of mind even in the midst of the world's injustice.

Do not misunderstand me. We are not to be complacent when corruption arises and violence takes law into its own hands. Such things should arouse us to crusading reform. But they do not crush our spirits with despair if we have faith that a just God always has the last word.

We can have the peace of the Psalmist when he said: "Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity, for they shall soon be cut down like the grass and wither as the green herb. Trust in the Lord and do good, so shalt thou dwell in the land and verily thou shalt be fed."

Thus, trust in God's justice and goodness gives a foundation for peace which the storms of circumstance cannot shake.

It is a confidence similar to that of the architect, Bradford Gilbert, when he built the first steel structure skyscraper in New York City.

When he proposed to erect a building 13 stories high on a plot only 21 feet wide and hang it on a steel frame, the city was aghast. People said such a building would not stand against the wind, but Gilbert said it would resist a gale of 100 miles an hour. One Sunday morning in 1886 when the building was up ten stories, the city was hit by a wind of 80 miles velocity. Crowds gathered to see the structure collapse. But Gilbert climbed to the top and let down a plumb line to show that there was no vibration and that the structure was safe. He knew its foundation and what it could stand.

His confidence makes me think of the words with which Matthew interprets Jesus as closing the Sermon on the Mount: "Whosoever heareth these words of mine and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man who built his house on a rock, and the floods came and the winds beat upon that house, and it fell not, for it was founded upon rock."

When we found our trust on God, we get a peace which can withstand the storms of circumstance. Yes, even death itself. On the last night of His earthly life, Jesus said to his disciples: "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you."

When a person feels at peace on the night before he is to be put to death, then he has the peace which the world cannot give. Such peace is the gift of God.

Among all your Christmas gifts may you get those which God gives.

This is my wish for you.

CPPD Construction Budget $5,826,540

Near $1 Million Earmarked For Work In Lincoln Area

COLUMBUS, Neb.—A $5,826,540 construction budget for 1958 was approved here Friday by Consumers Public Power District board of directors. Last year's budget stood at $5,004,239.

R. L. Schacht, CPPD general manager, pointed out to the board that the budget's construction money includes $2,149,900 for work on local electric distribution systems; $1,868,040 for power transmission lines; $326,335 for revamping rural lines and for building or improvements of sub-stations, CPPD power plants and for the purchase of equipment.

The budget includes approximately $1 million for work in the Lincoln area. This includes mostly distribution work, such as in the downtown and residential areas, and for nearby communities.

$17,549,823 income
The budget estimates the 1958 income at $17,549,823. President Mark T. Moore of Kearney told the board that these figures covered all operations, both in the eastern system (two thirds of the state outside of Omaha) and the western system (Ogallala, Scottsbluff and Chadron area).

Both officials previewed the 1958 financial picture by calling special attention to the following highlights:

Total operating expenses including construction are pegged at $13,800,541; this covers $7,160,000 for the purchase or production of electricity.

Another $2,678,520 has been provided for debt service, for payment of principal and interest on bonds and a reserve fund for future bond payments.

Approximately $320,000 for in lieu of tax payments. This includes money to be held in escrow while Lincoln's occupation tax is tested in the courts. The city of Hallam also has an occupation tax to be tested.

The big item of producing or buying power is expected to be up $365,445 or a 5.89 per cent increase in the eastern system. Consumers buys nearly all of its power in the eastern system from the Nebraska Public Power System. It is estimated that the purchased power will cost Consumers about 8.25 mills per kilowatt hour. The 1957 cost was slightly more than 8 mills per kilowatt hour.

Consumers produces all of its power in the western system mostly from steam plants at Ogallala and Scottsbluff. Power production costs in the western system, according to budget estimates, are expected to drop by $54,000.

Eastern Drop Seen

The overall net revenue for 1958 is estimated at $12,121,171 (after such operating and maintenance expenses as production, transmission and distribution of electric power, payments in lieu of taxes, administrative, etc.). The expected net revenue is estimated to drop $222,306 or 7.62 per cent in the eastern system, and $23,783 or 5.29 per cent in the western system.

In discussing the financial and construction programs, Consumers officials again brought out that Nebraska law requires CPPD to offer local distribution systems to the cities debt free in 1972. Those local distribution systems are maintained, built or improved only through net revenue not through borrowings.

Top Jobs Listed

Other highlights of Schacht's budget report to the board included the estimated total kilowatt sales in 1957 will be $19,300,000; total number of customers in 1957 averaged 117,900; that CPPD has made provisions for moving or rebuilding power lines to coincide with the stepped up state and county road building program.

The board was informed that some of the larger construction jobs will include (mostly on 34,500 volt transmission lines) the following areas: Plymouth Junction; DeWitt; Fairmont; Geneva; Elm-creek-Odessa; Norfolk-Pierce; Platte Center-Monroe; Neligh-Clearwater; and Albion-Cedar Rapids.

The other major transmission line is contemplated for the western system. Studies are under way over the feasibility of a 115,000 volt line to bolster the transmission grid in the western system.

Farmer Suffers Mangled Hand In Power Take-Off
ELGIN, Neb.—Kenneth Richart suffered a badly mangled left hand and wrist when he became caught in a power take-off.

The farmer possibly saved himself from more severe damage by knocking out the speed jack, causing the wooden pins to break when the shaft dropped.

It is believed that his left glove became entangled in the machinery when he reached across it for a scoop shovel.

Requests Get Personal Attention

Special Christmas Kindnesses Shown To Rest Home Patients

Lincoln Star Special
SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—Thanks to the real Christmas spirit that lives in the hearts of hundreds of people in this area, 61 residents of Scottsbluff rest homes will enjoy the feeling of a real Merry Christmas next Wednesday.

Each will receive that unexpected gift including special things they had expressed a desire to have, other personal gifts, apples, cookies and oranges.

The picture of putting Christ back into Christmas originated on a local radio station program conducted daily by Doris Berry.

The thought was first expressed by Mrs. Paul Gustafson, formerly of Omaha, early last fall. Mrs. Gustafson called to suggest to Mrs. Berry and her listeners about doing something for patients in rest homes in Scottsbluff.

Quick Action
The move really got started around Thanksgiving Day when Mrs. Mike Perlinger called about

Mrs. Gustafson's suggestion. Her query to Mrs. Berry was "Well, why don't we do something about it."

The results were a sight to behold. Contributions started coming to Mrs. Perlinger and Mrs. Gustafson to provide that Merry Christmas for patients in Scottsbluff's rest homes.

Mrs. Gustafson, Mrs. Perlinger and Marie Carlson are the persons deserving the credit for this "beautiful Christmas," Mrs. Berry says.

The three ladies visited each rest home in the city to find out what the patients would want for Christmas. They received many requests for personal things including a doll that squeaks, good chewing tobacco, cigarettes and a multitude of items.

Santa's Helpers Aid
Inspired by the Christmas spirit and the acts of their neighbors, people started bringing gifts for the people in the rest homes which they had requested to Mrs. Perlinger.

The gifts were distributed Friday at the rest homes. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Copp of Scottsbluff's Golden Age Club offered and were accepted to serve as Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus and distribute the gifts.

Friday evening's visit by Santa Claus will not end the Christmas thrills for the patients. On Saturday evening they will be taken by buses on a tour to see the Christmas decorations in Scottsbluff, Gering and Mitchell.

Bender Killed Instantly At Rail Crossing

COLUMBUS, Neb.—Investigation was under way Friday afternoon into the death of Gene S. Bender, 22, Cornelia, Neb., who was killed when he was struck by a Union Pacific passenger train.

The investigation team was headed by Platte County Attorney C. Thomas White, who also was acting as coroner. Bender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bender of Cornelia, had been living here recently.

S. E. Schadd, engineer of the passenger train bound from Omaha to Ogden, Utah, said Bender was lying on the tracks at a crossing and he did not see the youth in time to halt the train.

Schadd said the signal lights at the crossing were operating at the time. The train was proceeding about 25 miles an hour. Bender was killed instantly.

Word 'Sucker' Prime Clue In O'Rourke Case

By BILL W. DEAN

OMAHA (AP)—And now students, our after-supper seminar in the rudiments of criminology will consider the clue—or "clue" if we go along with Mr. Webster's choice.

A clue to a detective is like a wrench to a plumber—he won't get much done without one. Jokes about the plumber and his tools to the contrary, clues are usually harder to find than wrenches.

Sometimes a clue is just a word. "Sucker" was one in a Nebraska case not long ago.

When John James O'Rourke of Chicago took a car at gunpoint near Lexington last August, he told the driver, "I haven't got time for a sucker like you."

In a Calumet City, Ill., tavern three days before a gunman had shouted, "Hold it sucker," before firing a shot that killed a patron of the place.

Three months later officers announced O'Rourke had admitted the Calumet City slaying. A prime clue which led investigators to O'Rourke, they said, was "sucker," the word he used once too often. Little things can make dandy clues. A button as well as a bloodhound can lead detectives to a man.

In Omaha, George Daniel Jones Jr., 32, was charged with the slaying of pretty Mrs. Rita Kappenman, an expectant mother.

On the woman's body was the imprint of a single shirt button. The button was found nearby. In a garbage can at the rear of the house where Jones lived, detectives found a shirt with a button missing. The button found in the Kappenman apartment matched those on the discarded shirt.

Sometimes an officer finds the evidence he's looking for is neither small or hard to find.

When Patrolman Elvin Pesek halted a truck near Nelson one day, the truck looked as though it was overloaded by about three tons.

He ordered the truck to Nelson to be weighed, but it lagged behind and Pesek went back to investigate.

On the highway the patrolman found a three-ton pile of mello seed and considered his case made.

Whatever a clue may be today—button, word or pile of seed—it's ancestor was a ball of thread.

In legend the thread was used in guiding one's way out of a labyrinth and so today it is "an indication which guides one in solving anything of a doubtful or intricate nature."

Driver, Skis Escape Unhurt; Car Demolished

CHAPMAN, Neb. (AP)—Susan

Jean Van Kat, 21, of Eau Claire, Wis., and her skis escaped injury Friday when her car overturned but the car was demolished.

Miss Van Kat told State Trooper Charles Headley she was lighting a cigarette when the left front wheel of the car hit the shoulder of the road on U.S. 30 near Chapman and she was unable to right the car. It rolled over one and one-half times and landed in a ditch. She was unhurt and a pair of skis strapped to the top of the car were undamaged.

Progress On Power Peace 'Satisfactory'

COLUMBUS, Neb.—"Satisfactory progress" on efforts to heal Nebraska's power sores were predicted here Friday by R. L. Schacht, general manager of Consumers Public Power District. A report that a decision was in the offing was disclosed a week ago.

Schacht said further meetings with officials of Loup Public Power District, Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, and Nebraska Rural Generation and Transmission Co-operative Inc. will be held after Christmas in efforts to reach an agreement.

Schacht made the statement following a meeting of the CPPD board of directors.

In other action taken by the board, bids under consideration for the Hallam atomic plant equipment were rejected and ordered readvertised. Schacht explained that the board wanted to make some changes on specifications and bidding procedures.

Fillmore County Will Be Granted White Brothers

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Two brothers held in Grand Island following their arrest in connection with burglaries and a jail break probably will be turned over to Fillmore County authorities, Hall County Sheriff Sam Stobbe said Friday.

But the government also wants one of them for being absent without leave from the Army since June.

James Irwin White, 19, and John Irwin White, 24, both of Doniphan, are the pair held. Officers said the two admitted breaking jail at Sutton but declined to talk about burglaries at Exeter and Sutton.

Stobbe said John White had been sought since going AWOL from the Army since June.

How Government Works, Described By Rep. Harrison

SEWARD, Neb.—Rep. R. D. Harrison, Third district congressman from Nebraska, spoke to Concordia High School students on the topic, "How Your Government Works."

He discussed the organization of the House of Representatives and illustrated its functions by holding a mock session utilizing the student body to represent congressmen.

Arrangements for the appearance were made through the efforts of Byron Norvall.

Dinner Club Has Anniversary

It was a 30th anniversary that was the incentive for the celebration on Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fieselman entertained the members of their dinner club at a pre-holiday party held at their home.

The anniversary was that of the club which began as an afternoon bridge club for the ladies, only, and originally was called the EOF (Every Other Friday) Club. However, through the years, a few changes have been made. It now is a dinner club meeting on Thursday evenings and the gentlemen have wormed their way into the organization. Seated (from the left) are Mrs. B. E. Bell, Mrs. Lloyd Graham, Mrs. Andrew Morton, Mrs. Otto Woltemade, Mrs. Sam Fieselman, Mrs. Harold Requaite and Mrs. O. D. Trombla. Standing (left to right) are Mr. Morton, Mr. Graham, Mr. Bell, Mr. Fieselman, Mr. Woltemade, Mr. Requaite and Mr. Trombla.

Incidentally, the Fieselmans' modern Christmas tree is a bit unusual. Fashioned of silvered sumac branches, the "tree" is decorated with a variety of sparkling and brightly-colored articles as well as the usual Christmas balls and stars.

There is a veritable landslide of holiday news and at the rate things seem to be going we should be able to dig our way out from under some time in January. Park Manor neighbors are handling the lead reins of our sleigh this morning and off we go—

Arriving in Park Manor on Friday from their home in Milwaukee, Wis. were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coleman. Here for a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Col. and Mrs. Walter Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman plan to remain through the holidays.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hotvedt of Duluth, Minn., will be arriving for a ten-day visit as guests in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hotvedt, Jr., and their children, Michael and Susan.

Looking over the holiday party agenda we find that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker were host and hostess to guests on Friday evening at their Park Manor home. The guests were the fellow members of Mrs. Baker's bowling team and their husbands, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sigerson, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hadley.

The "cookie swap" is becoming a more and more popular Christmas tradition among neighbors since it saves the woman of the house from having to bake a variety of cookies. All one has to do is bake a batch of her favorites and exchange them for the artistic goodies concocted by friends.

On Friday evening Mrs. Owen

Beach entertained Lincoln friends at a cookie swap held at her home and among her guests were Mrs. Richard Spangler, Mrs. William Seiboldt, Mrs. Robert Burton, Mrs. Robert Sherwood, Mrs. Richard Duxbury, Mrs. Mike Lawlor, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Ted W. Barger, Mrs. Louis DuTeau and Mrs. Randall Ayer.

Turning to news of the younger set we learn that Den 2, Pack 48 of the Cub Scouts has undertaken a very worthwhile Christmas project. The members of the group, Gary Samuelson, Roger Johnson, Jimmy Stark, Harold Page, James Lake, Kenneth Fisher and Greg Larabee, have been busily collecting clothing and canned food which they packed in gayly colored cartons Thursday, Dec. 12, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Walter Stark. The gifts are Christmas presents from the boys to the Omaha Indians.

To Entertain At Sunday Tea

A tea hostess on Sunday afternoon will be Mrs. Lawrence Stromer who will entertain at her home between the hours of 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock. The tea will honor Mrs. Stromer's sister, Mrs. R. D. Gilman of Omaha, and Mrs. Herbert Ronin, who is queen of the Daughters of the Nile.

Had Chapel Wedding

MRS. FRED M. LINDSTROM

In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends the marriage of Miss Marilyn Schieber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin B. Schieber, to Fred M. Lindstrom, son of Mrs. Paul W. Lindstrom of Gresham, and the late Mr. Lindstrom, was solemnized Friday evening, Dec. 20. White carnation bouquets caught with swags of pink ribbon decorated the chapel of Grace Methodist Church for the service, which was read by the Rev. Merrill R. Willis, and the wedding music was played by Miss Ann Rogers, organist.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Vernon Allen, sister of the bridegroom. Fashioned in the daytime mode, her frock was designed with an off-shoulder basque of rose velveteen and a wide skirt in navy blue faille. She wore a feathered half-hat in navy, and completed her costume with a corsage of white carnations. Miss Peggy Thomas of Gresham was the flower girl, and lighting the chapel candles were Miss Marilyn McClure and Lee Young.

Clark Lindstrom of Wichita, Kan., served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Eldon Gierhan of Rising City and Ed Schwaninger, Tom Lindstrom was the ringbearer.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white brushed orlon in the after-five length. A band of the material accented the lines of the Empire bodice, which was designed with a notched, bateau neckline and abbreviated sleeves, and the gored skirt flared into hemline width. Her brief veil of illusion was held by a white feathered cap, and she carried a white orchid and blush pink, sweetheart roses.

Immediately following the 8 o'clock ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a student at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Phi Mu sorority. Mr. Lindstrom is serving with the Marine Corps and is stationed at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif.

T'was four days before Christmas

When it came with a clatter—A column of news, and overheard chatter—So here it is, with my personal views 'Bout Lincoln Northeast, and its latest news.

With all the rushing of last minute shopping and such, the teens of the town still find time for parties and other activities. Twelve senior girls have been dashing here and there preparing for the Christmas Tea. These girls will be the gracious hostesses for the tea to be held at the Dr. Byron Tullis home Sunday afternoon.

A gift exchange was the feature at both the Sienette and Y-Teen Christmas parties this week. The Y-Teens also helped make the holidays a little brighter by decorating The Cedars Home with Christmas trimmings.

Thirteen junior girls will be hostesses at the Holiday Ball, Dec. 27. Many arrangements and last minute details are being taken care of by these busy gals.

By the way, don't forget the Holly Hop, sponsored by Keen Time Council. This special holiday dance will be held Dec. 27 at the Activities Building and is free to all Keen Time members.

Lincoln Northeast will be represented on the "Voice of the Young Citizen" program tomorrow evening. Keith Bastron, John Abrahamson, Carl Burnham, Jane Cumming, Kathy Joil and Pam Hayes will discuss, "The Value of Extra-Curricular Activities in High School." These programs are held every Sunday and a different school is featured each week.

Looking for something different for tonight's date? A local radio station is sponsoring a Record Hop this evening from 7:30 o'clock to 11 o'clock. It will be held in the Pershing Municipal Auditorium. There'll be plenty of the latest pop music for dancing, free records, and a good time for all, I'm sure.

One closing thought. Its meaning quite clear, Merry Christmas to you And a Happy New Year.

Dear Abby . . .

All God's Children!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column where a 13-year-old miss thought she was too old to say the prayer, "Now I lay me down to sleep." Well, I am 73 and my beloved is 72, and we are still saying it. We don't rattle it off like a lot of words, either. We get down on our knees, hold hands and put some expression into it. Aren't we God's children at any age? STILL PRAYING

DEAR STILL: Indeed we are! God bless you!

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for eight years and get along about as well as the average American couple. I would say we have a fight about once a week. She was rushed to the hospital in the middle of the night and when I asked her afterwards what was the matter with her she said it was none of my business. I didn't want to upset her so I let it go for a whole week and I asked her again. Same answer. I think as long as I pay the bills it is my business. What do you think and how can I find out?

RANDY
DEAR RANDY: If she's your wife, it's your business. You have a perfect right to ask her doctor.

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 years old and my parents are very old-fashioned. For example, my father came home and saw me sitting on my boy-friend's lap. I heard him coming and could have gotten off if I had wanted to, but I don't see anything wrong with sitting on my boy-friend's lap. We are practically engaged. My father gave me the dickens right in front of my boy-friend. Do you think I did such terrible thing? CAROL

DEAR CAROL: If it's your last lap—it's not so bad.

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 years old and go with a man who is 27. He is very jealous and doesn't want me working because I come in contact with other men.

He says he will pay me what I would earn if I will just stay at home. This man travels through here, has a nice new expensive car, and dresses sharp. He says he is in "OIL" but my father can't get any more facts out of him. He doesn't talk much. He has an Oklahoma license plate and wants me to marry him. He never mentions his family and says he has no religion but lives by the "Golden Rule." My head says "No" but my heart says "Yes." Should I keep seeing him? IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: Listen to your head, young lady. There is too much mystery surrounding this fellow. Maybe he is in OIL, all right—BANANA OIL!

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARY ANN: DON'T!

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

SUBURBIA

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. THEODORE ROBERT CUNNINGHAM

For the wedding of Miss Lelona Ann Bade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. Bade, and Theodore Robert Cunningham, son of Mrs. Carl Wipperman, which took place Friday evening, Dec. 20, white poinsettias and chrysanthemums, and clusters of lighted white candles, appointed the chancel of Grace Lutheran Church. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Leland H. Leshar assisted by the Rev. Chesmond Bade of Ft. Smith, Ark., brother of the bride. The wedding music was played by Bill Gilbert, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Paul Jordan, the vocal soloist.

Wearing identically-styled frocks of ruby red silk taffeta were Miss Jane Powell, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Shirley Langhus and Miss Janet Stein. Shirred, bracelet sleeves accented the snug, Empire bodices, and the skirt widened into ballerina length. They carried cascades of white poinsettias.

Henry Schneider, Jr., served Mr. Cunningham as best man, and the corps of ushers included Robert Hoppens, William Bancroft, Kenneth Albert, Harry Ellis and Wayne Hogue.

White Chantilly lace was selected by the bride for her wedding gown. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was designed with a deep yoke of tucked tulle highlighted by a Peter Pan collar of lace, and below the slim waist the skirt flared into extreme fullness. A half-hat of jeweled lace held her veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangements of white orchids and stephanotis.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Upon returning from a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at 706 Marshall.

A member of the Lincoln Schools faculty, the bride is a graduate of Midland College, Fremont, where she is a member of Phi Alpha sorority and Cardinal Key honorary.

AF Discloses Plans To Tighten Launching Security, Bar Close-Up Pictures

...More Barriers To Be Built

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — The Air Force disclosed Friday night further plans to tighten security restrictions around the area where America's big missiles are launched, and to prevent close-up photographs.

Lt. Col. Sam Bruno, security chief for the Air Force missile test center, told a reporter that "more barriers will be put up and more barriers built" on government property thereabouts.

Bruno referred to a newly erected barrier over the road just south of the test center, leading through the Air Force-operated port for Cape Canaveral to a popular beach observation point, and to a new sign there banning cameras, camera equipment, binoculars, communication equipment (automobile radio-phones), firearms and explosives.

Bruno said that in the "very near future we will post everything we have" in the area bordering on the test center on the cape.

Closed Off
He said particularly that the area north of the center overlooking the Atlas launching towers, where cameramen assemble to photograph firings of the nation's 5,000-mile-range ballistic missile, will be closed off.

Photographers now approach the Atlas launch area by a state highway running for several miles through land that has been purchased by the federal government—a region containing many attractive small homes, now empty and abandoned after sale by the private owners.

They have been able to do this because one small parcel of land close to the center and facing on the beach has been retained by its private owner. The owner, who lives elsewhere, reportedly has rejected repeated Air Force offers

Floyd Miller To Head Secondary School Evaluation

Floyd A. Miller, State Department of Education assistant commissioner, will head the Co-operative Study of Secondary School Standards during 1958.

F. B. Decker, state commissioner of education, said Friday that Miller was elected to the position during the organization's annual meeting in Chicago this week.

Decker said the organization, with headquarters in Washington, D.C., concerns itself with evaluation and improvement of secondary schools throughout the nation.

on the basis he likes it there and plans to retire there.

Bruno said the Air Force will close the road into the area and will place a no trespassing sign in the middle of the road—as soon as it can get around to having the sign made and installed.

He said the Air Force has the right to keep out everyone except the actual owner of the land.

State Owned
Bruno acknowledged that the Air Force was unable to extend its ban on cameras, binoculars and the like to the actual beach area, which is state owned.

But he said the owners of private property adjoining Port Canaveral to the south were co-operating fully in Air Force attempts to keep launching secrets, and were keeping the public off their property.

The only remaining access to the observation beach, commonly known as Bird Watch Knoll, would be at low tide, along the beach itself, for a distance of three miles to the town of Cocoa Beach.

Actually, many of the cameramen have by choice been using another beach area, called Adams Avenue, which provides a better view of the cape although it is a mile or two south of Bird Watch Knoll.

The Air Force, in prepared comment on the Port Canaveral action, said that as part of the routine security program at the test center various steps had been taken for some years to "improve methods of insuring that unauthorized photographs of classified missiles, vital to our nation's defense, are not made available to our potential enemies."

Cape Borders

The Air Force said that for many years it has been possible for anyone to photograph certain activities at the launching site from public and private property on the north and south borders of the cape.

"It has recently been determined that the easement agreement that the Air Force has entered into, on use of the road and property south of the Port Canaveral entrance, permits the Air Force to take such security and safety measures as are deemed necessary to protect the interests of the U.S. government," the prepared statement added.

"As part of these measures a sign has been erected on the road leading from old Route A1A east to the Sea Jetty, paralleling the entrance to Port Canaveral."

This was the sign prohibiting cameras and other equipment.

Bruno said the Air Force had "researched" the issue thoroughly, particularly as to its legal rights, before imposing the ban. He said there was no question but what the Defense Department had the right to limit access to property it owns and to property, such as that at the port, which it merely leases.

Central Christian, Missionary Alliance Church Announces $40,000 '58 Budget

The Central Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 2820 O, has set a budget of more than $40,000 for 1958, according to the Rev. Ralph Williams.

The congregation adopted a budget which called for $23,490 to be used for local church expense and $15,143.60 for foreign missions, he said.

The church building indebtedness will be paid off in about three years, he added.

During the past year the number on the roll, including members and those in adherence, increased by 19 per cent. The present roll lists 442 persons.

The adult membership in the church and average Sunday attendance for 1957 was about 275, the Rev. Mr. Williams said.

Justice In Hungary Is Demanded

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—The U.N. Committee on Hungary demanded Friday night assurances of justice for freedom fighters and said a special session of the U.N. General Assembly may be summoned unless it receives such iron-clad guarantees.

The unanimous action of the five-nation committee was announced after a meeting called "to consider the situation created by continuing reports of trials of participants in the 1956 uprising."

It was decided to transmit to puppet Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath a letter "expressing the committee's concern regarding these reports and asking for further information and assurances that the highest humanitarian standards would be applied."

Danish diplomat Aising Andersen, chairman of the committee, said the possibility of summoning a special Assembly session "depends on the reply from the Hungarian government" to the letter.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge warned during the closing hours of the 12th General Assembly last Saturday that a special session would be summoned if the puppet Hungarian regime carried out its reported plans to prosecute top freedom fighters.

The Danish statesman said the committee "could meet again at very brief notice" for whatever follow-up action is required. Andersen himself is leaving for Copenhagen Saturday, but arrangements were made for a substitute for him from the Danish U.N. delegation, if necessary.

Tax 'Mess' Could Mean 'Political Revolution'--Terry

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press

Nebraska's property tax "mess," if not remedied, "could create the biggest political revolution ever seen in this state," Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said Friday.

"I don't think the average taxpayer is going to stand still for another four years," he declared in an interview.

"I can think of no more important problem confronting the state than this one."

The comments came amid growing indications that state legislators are taking a dim view of the request by Carpenter and his tax investigating committee that the Legislature be called into special session to deal with the state's tax problems.

Minority In Favor

Unofficial polls of state senators have uncovered only a minority who favor the special session proposal. Gov. Victor Anderson said he will be guided by his own poll of legislators in deciding for or against the session call.

But Carpenter said the tax inequities and free-wheeling tax reporting practices uncovered by his committee demand immediate attention.

Unless new corrective legislation is written, the tax situation will deteriorate even further, he said. Because of the publicity given the tax picture by the committee, a lot of Nebraskans are going to decide they might as well follow the suit of those who've been taking advantage of the laws and their self-assessment opportunities, and the whole level of assessments will drop, he predicted.

"I don't blame the Governor or the Legislature for not having taken action earlier because they just didn't know—and I didn't either—what a disgraceful tax situation had developed," he said.

Should Take 'Action'

"But now that the situation is known, it becomes the responsibility of the Governor and the Legislature to take action."

Carpenter said that by and large, he does not think Nebraska taxpayers who assess themselves have been doing so dishonestly. They have only been taking advantage of fuzzy and inadequate laws and the absence of machinery and authority to enforce them.

Constitutional remedies should be on the November election ballot next year, he said. "Today all action for further study is just the old dodge all over again."

"And let me say this," he added, "I am not a candidate for governor next year. If I were, the people would have some reason to question my motives. I hope to come back to the Legislature, and that's all."

Tot Found Dead; Dog At His Side

FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP)—A three-year-old boy, his dog standing guard, was found dead Friday, 19 hours after he wandered away from his farm home.

The youngster, Ralph Wagner, had spent the night in rain and 34-degree weather. Dr. L. L. Cooper, coroner, said death resulted from exposure.

The dog's presence led searchers to the body in a pasture. The animal had dug a hole beside the boy and apparently had nestled against him part of the night.

Ralph was one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wagner.

's Comiskey Family Squabble Won't Halt Pending White Sox Player Trades

CHICAGO — It will be interesting as usual for the Chicago White Sox despite the court wrangling over club stock control in the reigning Comiskey family.

Perhaps it would be on an armed truce basis, but the two Sox vice presidents, Charles (Chuck) Comiskey, and his brother-in-law, John Rigney, indicated Friday the club still is working on deals and both would pitch in on any chance to improve the team.

Chuck's sister, secretary-treasurer Mrs. Rigney, this week was stung by a probate court petition by Comiskey to force her to release, as executrix of the late Mrs. Grace Comiskey's estate, of 1,781 shares willed him by his mother.

Gratitously accused her brother of "ingratitude" in the wake of his statement that she was "victim of bad advice" from the club's third director, attorney Roy Egan. Sox counsel, Egan contends taxes should be settled before Chuck gets his stock and Dorothy her 2,281 shares of the estate.

Chuck issued a retaliatory statement, but directed it mainly at Egan who he said was trying to drive a wedge between him and his sister.

Comiskey said Friday the Sox, who made two big deals at the recent baseball meetings in Colorado Springs, might be active again on the trade mart right after the first of the year. "We're not far apart on a deal with Detroit," said Comiskey, "and at Colorado Springs we left one hanging in the fire with the Kansas City club." He said he also suspected Calvin Griffith of the Washington Senators might talk trade soon.

"As far as I'm concerned," said Rigney, "I'll sit down and talk with Chuck if we think we have a deal come up which will improve the club. I like our club pretty well the way it is right now, but if we can do something to help our bench, that's fine."

Egan said he believed the rift would not impede any worthwhile deal. At Colorado Springs, the Sox sent Minnie Minoso and Fred Hatfield to Cleveland for Early Wynn and Al Smith and traded Larry Doby and Jack Harshman to Baltimore for Ray Moore, Bill Goodman and Tito Francona.

Chuck said the Sox would like to obtain a third baseman (but that there appeared no chance of getting Detroit's Harvey Kuenn coveted by the Pale Hose), a "proven" center fielder and another pitcher for the bull pen.

As for Sox players, other clubs are known to have shown interest in first sacker Walt Dropo, third baseman-outfielder Bubba Phillips, and outfielder Jim Rivera, and a lot of interest in star catcher Sherm Lollar, who would be awfully hard to get.

Stocks End Dismal Week With Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—A dismal pre-Christmas week ended for the stock market Friday with another slump on poor industrial news.

A feeble early attempt to continue Thursday's recovery soon petered out into irregularity. By early afternoon the market was on its way downhill again.

Stocks closed at their lows of the day with losses running from 1 to 2 points or more for the run of key stocks.

An already-uncertain and wavering market tipped to the minus side after Chrysler announced its Detroit area assembly plants are shutting down early next week until at least Jan. 2.

There also was news of cutbacks and layoffs in other industries.

Wall Street was disappointed, too, that the Federal Reserve Board did not take some positive action, such as lowering reserve requirements, to help the market after Thursday's close. While bank credit was expanded in the latest week, the "fed" took no outright action as hoped for by Wall Streeters.

The latest rise in the cost-of-living index would ordinarily be taken as a bullish factor but it wasn't enough to change Friday's mood.

Based on the fall in The Associated Press average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $1,622,000,000.

The AP 60-stock average fell $1.30 to $132.70, showing a substantial loss for the week. The industrial index, however, rose the rally 70 cents and the utilities 20 cents.

Of 1,187 issues traded, declines totaled 640 and advances 254. New lows were 106 and new highs for the year 3.

Eleven of the 15 most active issues fell, 2 rose and 1 was unchanged.

More tax loss selling was evident and traders lightened their commitments prior to the week-end.

Volume was 2,500,000 shares compared with 2,740,000 Thursday.

Airplane stocks continued down trend. American Stock Exchange prices were generally lower on 1,622,000 shares compared with 769,000 Thursday.

MOST GRAINS CLOSE LOWER

CHICAGO (AP)—Paced by new crop wheat, grain futures ended mostly lower on the Board of Trade Friday.

Liquidation of new crop bread grain was pretty general most of the session with prices off more than 2 cents a bushel at the extreme. The decline attracted buying and losses were reduced somewhat at the close.

The nearby March wheat delivery, off more than a cent in early trading, recovered on late demand to end the session higher.

At the close wheat was 1 1/2 lower, oats unchanged to 1/2 lower, soybeans 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher, and corn 1/2 to 3/4 higher.

Liquidation of new crop wheat futures stemmed from a government estimate of the 1958 winter wheat crop, which was much larger than the trade expected.

Trade observers said the government forecast for production of 90 million bushels of winter wheat, if realized, would mean that the winter wheat crop alone would amount to 1 1/2 years domestic consumption. Also it would result in a further substantial addition to the already burdensome surplus in the United States.

During the session July and September wheat sold at new lows for the season, as did all deliveries of corn, July and September, and soybeans, July and September. Wheat futures at Kansas City also dipped to new lows before recovering part of early decline.

Buying of corn late in the session was attributed to a forecast by the Department of Agriculture which estimates spring pig production would increase about 6 per cent. Early selling was induced by reports of increased producer selling in the country.

Higher prices for soybeans reflected firmer markets for soybean oil and soybean meal. There was no special feature to the soy market, which ended unchanged to slightly lower. Commercial demand for soy was lacking.

COURT UPHOLDS CO. ATTY. LINE IN SUIT OVER TRUCK DETENTION

The State Supreme Court Friday upheld a decision favoring Dodge County Attorney William G. Line in a suit brought by Spidel Farm Supply, Inc.

The Spidel firm had asked for return of a truck and damages, claiming Line had wrongfully detained the vehicle. At issue originally, but not directly in the suit, was whether the truck was properly licensed to operate in Nebraska.

The District Court had dismissed a replevin action by the Spidel firm for return of the truck and the firm appealed. The Supreme Court ruled that "there was no genuine issue of fact in this case and appellee was entitled to a judgment as a matter of law."

In other cases, the high court:

1. Affirmed in part and in part reversed the Dodge County District Court decision in a case involving seven city lots in Snyder, Neb. The case involved a bid by William Middaugh of $15 for the lots, owned by Anna Sasse, although the tax lien of $1,024 and an old age assistance lien of $1,071 were held against the property.

2. Affirmed a Lincoln County District Court decision that certain disputed acreage land on the east end of Ware Island in the North Platte River belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Heider.

The Heiders brought the original action against Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kautz, who also claimed ownership, but the court found for the Heiders and awarded the Heiders $100 as damages.

3. Affirmed a Saunders County District Court verdict awarding $46,165 to survivors in the traffic death of Russell K. Kroeger in a two-truck collision about seven miles west of Valmora.

The Kroeger estate brought the action against Karl Saffner, owner and operator of one of the trucks involved, and Prucka Transportation Co., whose truck Kroeger was driving. Saffner appealed but the Supreme Court said it found no prejudicial error in the lower court's trial record.

4. Reversed and remanded a Clay County District Court decision, appealed by John A. Krieger et al., who brought the original suit against persons alleged to be causing water to drain on land of the plaintiffs.

5. Reversed and remanded for new trial in Douglas County District Court a damages action brought originally by Frank J. Strnad against Herman P. Mahr as the result of an Omaha auto collision in 1955.

The District Court found in Mahr's favor and Strnad appealed. The supreme court sustained Strnad's contention that the trial court in submitting the issue of alleged contributory negligence and the theory of comparative negligence to the jury, erred.

Part Missing From Wreckage Of B-47

A fuel pressure regulator from the No. 1 engine is missing from the wreckage of the B-47 bomber which crashed a week ago near the Duluth, Minn., Municipal Airport, Lincoln Air Force Base officials said Friday.

Three crew members were killed when the crippled craft, based in Lincoln, crashed in flames while attempting an emergency landing.

The regulator is needed to help determine the cause of the accident and an Air Force accident investigating board has asked that anyone finding the item please return it.

The equipment is not classified.

$102,254 Injury Suit Filed Against S. H. Stephenson

Stanley L. Kastl Friday filed a $102,254 damage suit in Lancaster District Court against Samuel H. Stephenson of Apt. 2, 1424 D. Kastl alleges in his petition that he was injured Dec. 14, 1957, when he was struck by a car driven by Stephenson as he, Kastl, was walking along the shoulder of U.S. 6 in Greenwood, Neb.

Kastl alleges the injuries he received include a fractured pelvis and brain concussion.

DULLES, FRANCO CONFER

... No Talk Of Bases

MADRID — Secretary of State Dulles said Friday night he gave Generalissimo Franco "an intimate report and interpretation" of the NATO summit meeting in Paris during a five-hour visit here.

Dulles told reporters the question of establishing missile bases in Spain was not discussed. He came here from Paris at the government's invitation and was on his way again Tuesday night, flying to Washington.

Dulles declined to go into detail about the U.S. attitude toward Spain's difficulties in North Africa. Spanish sources had said Franco would seek U.S. approval of a proposed Spanish offensive against an irregular Moroccan Army said to be operating in revolt-torn Ifni.

She Won't Refire

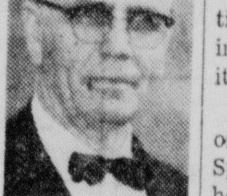

MEXICO CITY — Reports that actress Mery Oberon is retiring from films are being laughed off by her husband, Bruno Pagliai. "An actress never retires," he told an interviewer. "We do plan to live here, but will travel considerably." She has at no time talked to me of retiring."

Goldbeck Named Superintendent Of Retirement Colony

HASTINGS, Neb. — Appointment of the Rev. William Goldbeck, protestant chaplain at the Hastings State Hospital for more than 11 years, to be superintendent of the Good Samaritan Retirement Colony in Hastings was announced Friday.

Dr. August Hoeger, superintendent of the Evangelical Lutheran Good Samaritan Society, Inc., Fargo, N.D., announced the appointment.

The Rev. Mr. Goldbeck will continue to serve the state hospital on a part-time basis until a successor is appointed.

Spirit Gone

DETROIT — Nicholas Weiss has lost his Christmas spirit. It went, he said, when a thief stole a statue of Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer from a Christmas display in front of his home here.

"For years people have brought their children to see the display," Weiss said, "especially Rudolph who had a nose that lit up."

"I'm disgusted," Weiss said as he turned down the elaborate decorations.

Draft Call Goes Up

13,000 Is Quota For February

WASHINGTON — The Army boosted its draft call to 13,000 men for February and said this monthly rate probably will continue for the rest of 1958.

The February call is for 30 percent more men than the 10,000-man quota set for January. The January figure in turn represents a 3,000-man increase over December.

The step-up in draft calls was forecast last month when Asst. Secretary of the Army Hugh Milne said more inductees will be needed because the Army's losses will be greater than the manpower reduction ordered some months ago.

Milne said higher performance and ability standards will prevent the re-enlistment of men who show less aptitude.

Gift Killed

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — William Doyle Bennett of Mascot, Tenn., had to kill his Christmas present. It bit him.

Bennett was treated at a Knoxville hospital and advised to have the present, a "possum given him by a friend, checked for rabies.

Self-Styled Friend Of Nixon 'Dropped In Accidentally' At Gangland Meet

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A self-styled friend of Vice President Nixon and New York's Governor testified Friday that he dropped in accidentally at the national gangland convention at Apalachin last month.

John C. Montana, Buffalo taxi-cab and liquor baron, one of several witnesses before the New York legislature's Watchdog Committee, gave a variety of explanations for being at the Nov. 14 meeting. Others invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to talk. Montana, 64, who denied under oath that he tried to buy off the state police sergeant who broke up the gathering at Joseph Barbara's palatial hilltop home, said he knew Nixon very well and had been Gov. Averell Harriman's guest twice.

In Washington, aides said Nixon did not recall having met Montana. They said, however, he might have since the Vice President has met many persons on campaign trips.

Montana said he once headed a reception committee that welcomed Nixon to Buffalo.

Harriman's office said its records showed Montana had dined only once with Harriman, at a luncheon of 44 persons at the governor's New York City home in 1955 to honor Italian Prime Minister Scelba. Montana's name had been submitted to the governor as a prominent upstate Italo-American and Republican, an aide said.

Under questioning, Montana insisted that he stopped at Barbara's only because his car broke down and he was a friend of Barbara, head of a bottling company in Endicott. Montana had a cup of tea with Barbara's wife to ward off a chill, he said.

Same Time

Most of the 60 hoods and cronies nabbed in the raid claimed they had happened to arrive at the same time from all over the nation to visit a sick friend—Barbara.

Protection of the Fifth was claimed by Vincent Rao, 59, of Yonkers, who was questioned in the assassination of racketeer, load Albert Anastasia, and Joseph Riccobono, 53, of Staten Island, convicted extortionist and a member of the old Lepke gang.

Emmanuel Zicari, a 57-year-old Endicott shoe worker who said he was out to get some fresh air, claimed he stopped into commiserate with the ailing Barbara at 9 a.m. and wound up making coffee for "a lot of people." He said he did not overhear any conversations.

Another witness, Ignatius Cannone, an Endwell restaurateur, admitted he was a good friend of Barbara. Cannone said he had made a business call and left without mingling with the others.

The legislative committee subpoenaed 27 of the 36 New Yorkers who were at Barbara's. The committee is trying to learn what had been discussed. Process servers have been unable to locate the other nine.

'Dozer Told To Put Out, Clean Up, Buried Fire

The Sanitary District trustees Friday ordered the district's bulldozer to the smog-bog on West A "to put out the fire and clean up the mess."

Dumped trees and debris under a dirt-topped fill have been burning and smoldering since Dec. 8 at about 200 West A.

Board Chairman A. J. Amen reported that a drainage ditch has been dammed and water is beginning to back up and smother the smoldering fire.

It's getting weaker all the time," he added.

Immediately

District Engineer Ralph Marlette said the district bulldozer would be moved from Dead Man's Run to the scene immediately.

Mayor Bennett Martin reported that the city fire department has been dumping thousands of gallons of water a day for the "past several days" on smoldering fire and will continue its co-operation with the Sanitary District.

More dirt will be filled in on the smoldering area on the south side of A, according to the Sanitary Board's orders.

The district bulldozer will also push the trees and debris on the north side of A together and burn them before leveling off the fill.

Meet Star Carrier Jim Williamson

Jim Williamson, 10, is a Lincoln Star carrier-salesman in Aurora, Neb. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williamson.

Jim, a fifth-grader, is learning to be a businessman. He started on his newspaper route about the time school ended last spring.

Since it was a small route, Jim went to work calling on prospects and added 12 new readers the first week he had the route. He has been building his route gradually, with good service and salesmanship.

Jim uses the profits from his route wisely. He paid for his bicycle and then bought a power mower last summer. His paper route enables him to make payment on the mower during the winter months and he also scoops snow for neighbors.

Active in Cub Scouts, he has completed work on a Lions Badge and is going into Boy Scouts. His mother is a Cub Scout leader.

He likes all sports and plays baseball in the PeeWee League. He played grade school football for the first time this year and is playing basketball. Although he particularly enjoys all outdoor sports, his mother says fishing seems to be his favorite.

Jim likes Sunday School and attends regularly.

He has a hobby of collecting stamps and has built up a nice collection.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williamson are pleased to have Jim receive the valuable experience in modern business training which his Lincoln Star route gives him. They believe it will be helpful to him in the future.

Any young man interested in carrying a morning Lincoln Star route in his home town may get full information by writing to the Star Carrier Department, The Lincoln Star, 926 P. Lincoln, Neb.
